2. The Buda Castle District

The Buda Castle District is worth a special mention, since with its many sights, this destination alone is worth a full day. Once in the centre of the quarter, surrounded by the castle wall, take a look at the 19th-century Neo-Gothic-style MATTHIAS CHURCH and the Neo-Romanesque FISHERMAN'S BASTION; and don't miss walking through Buda Castle, once home to kings and today housing the National Széchenyi Library, THE NATIONAL GALLERY and the Budapest History Museum. If we were you, we'd also check out the Várkert Bazár, known as the capital's special jewellery box, where art and nature live together symbiotically. Check out the exhibits here, enjoy a phenomenal dinner or simply admire the magical panorama.
